

1 ABSTRACT

2 A request for content associated with a particular channel is received from a
3 client device. A system identifies service information data associated with the
4 channel. The system then determines how content associated with the channel
5 will be provided to the client device. Instructions are sent to the client device that
6 notify the client device how to access content associated with the channel.

7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25